COMMERCIAL PARTNER

Weaknesses in your supplier chain can be expensive and even critical for you. Trust is needed to get through tougher times and having trusted suppliers and partners at your sides will be the best assets you can have. Building this trust is a daily work you have to do, based on an open and honest communication. A trusted supplier will also feel valued and will also trust you. It's a win-win-situation for all parties.

The better your partnership with your supplier is, the better the service of your supplier will be. A satisfied supplier who feels valued is much more willing to fulfill your requirements and your last minute demands. Having a partner to count on is vital for any business. So that our suppliers are selective.

Sanindusa Company recognized for its design, quality and excellent Brand Image.

It was with great determination and commitment that over the years, Sanindusa won the excellent brand image and confidence that has among its clients. The success only served as a stimulus, but on the other hand was an invitation to face new challenges, with new technologies and the development of mechanisms for information and innovation to facilitate the provision of excellent service which characterize us.

And do not talk only in the domestic market but also in foreign markets. Since the beginning of laboring in 1993 the Group exported its products and today, I am pleased that we are present with our products in 84 countries, distributed by the 4 corners of the world.

Foreign markets were, from the beginning of the activity, seen as essential for the growth that the administration set out to achieve. Strategically management elected as main factors for success, quality, design, innovation, service and competitiveness.

With effort, skill and perseverance of all, we are now a globally recognized brand in the construction sector.

And it is with great pride in the past that we constantly improve at all levels and thus face the future with great optimism.

The Sanindusa group has quality and environmental management systems certificated according with the normative reference NP EN ISO 9001 since 2003, with regard to the following scope:

Design, production and sales of equipment's for bathroom suites and kitchens.

The ceramic units and finished product warehouse, are also certificated according the normative reference NP EN ISO 14001 and EU Eco-Management and Audit Scheme (EMAS) since 2005, with regard to the following scope:

The certification of quality and environmental management systems in accordance with the normative reference mentioned, allows to demonstrate the commitment of the organization with quality of it is products and services, customer satisfaction and the worry to improve it is environmental performance.

Annually, the Sanindusa group define goals for it is quality and environmental management systems, which are monitored throughout the year with purpose to continuous improvement.

made in Italy

Intuition, a pure and wonderful moment. Followed by design and testing, where quality comes with composure. Each single step is talked through again and again in order to arrive at the timeless beauty that typifies our products. Absolute coherence in each and every detail. This is how and why the best designers and architects choose Nobili to express their style in designing the most spectacular bathrooms in the world.

Stylistic innovation is the fruit of their expertise: product design, interior design, architecture. Our advanced technology is the primary element of a result faithful to their ideas. Without compromise.

FOUNDRY

One of the areas that, together with the turning unit, represents the moment when everything takes shape: the low-pressure robotic Foundry department, where 20 machining units produce more than 780,000 components every year, reducing material waste to zero and not damaging the environment.

Made in Germany

The Bright of design of Germany where craftsmanship and quality has a long tradition is the source of our strength and accomplishments. For nearly 25 years HANSBACH has been at the forefront of a New Culture of Hospitality. By continuously exploring the trends and demands of the hospitality sector HANSBACH is committed to exploring "new ways" of thinking in design development, production techniques and material use.

HANSBACH has always seen itself as a family business with lively business activities in the specialist trade, with specialist installers on site and with planning architects. We maintain close ties to trading partners, production facilities and designers. As a family, we are open to interculturality and tolerance - a decent, respectful demeanor is a matter of course for us. As a company, we are performance-oriented and aim to continuously improve. Long-term success as a reliable partner is always more important to us than short-term profit - after all, a deal is only good if everyone involved wins.

Dell'Ovo®

Italian Standard Ceramic

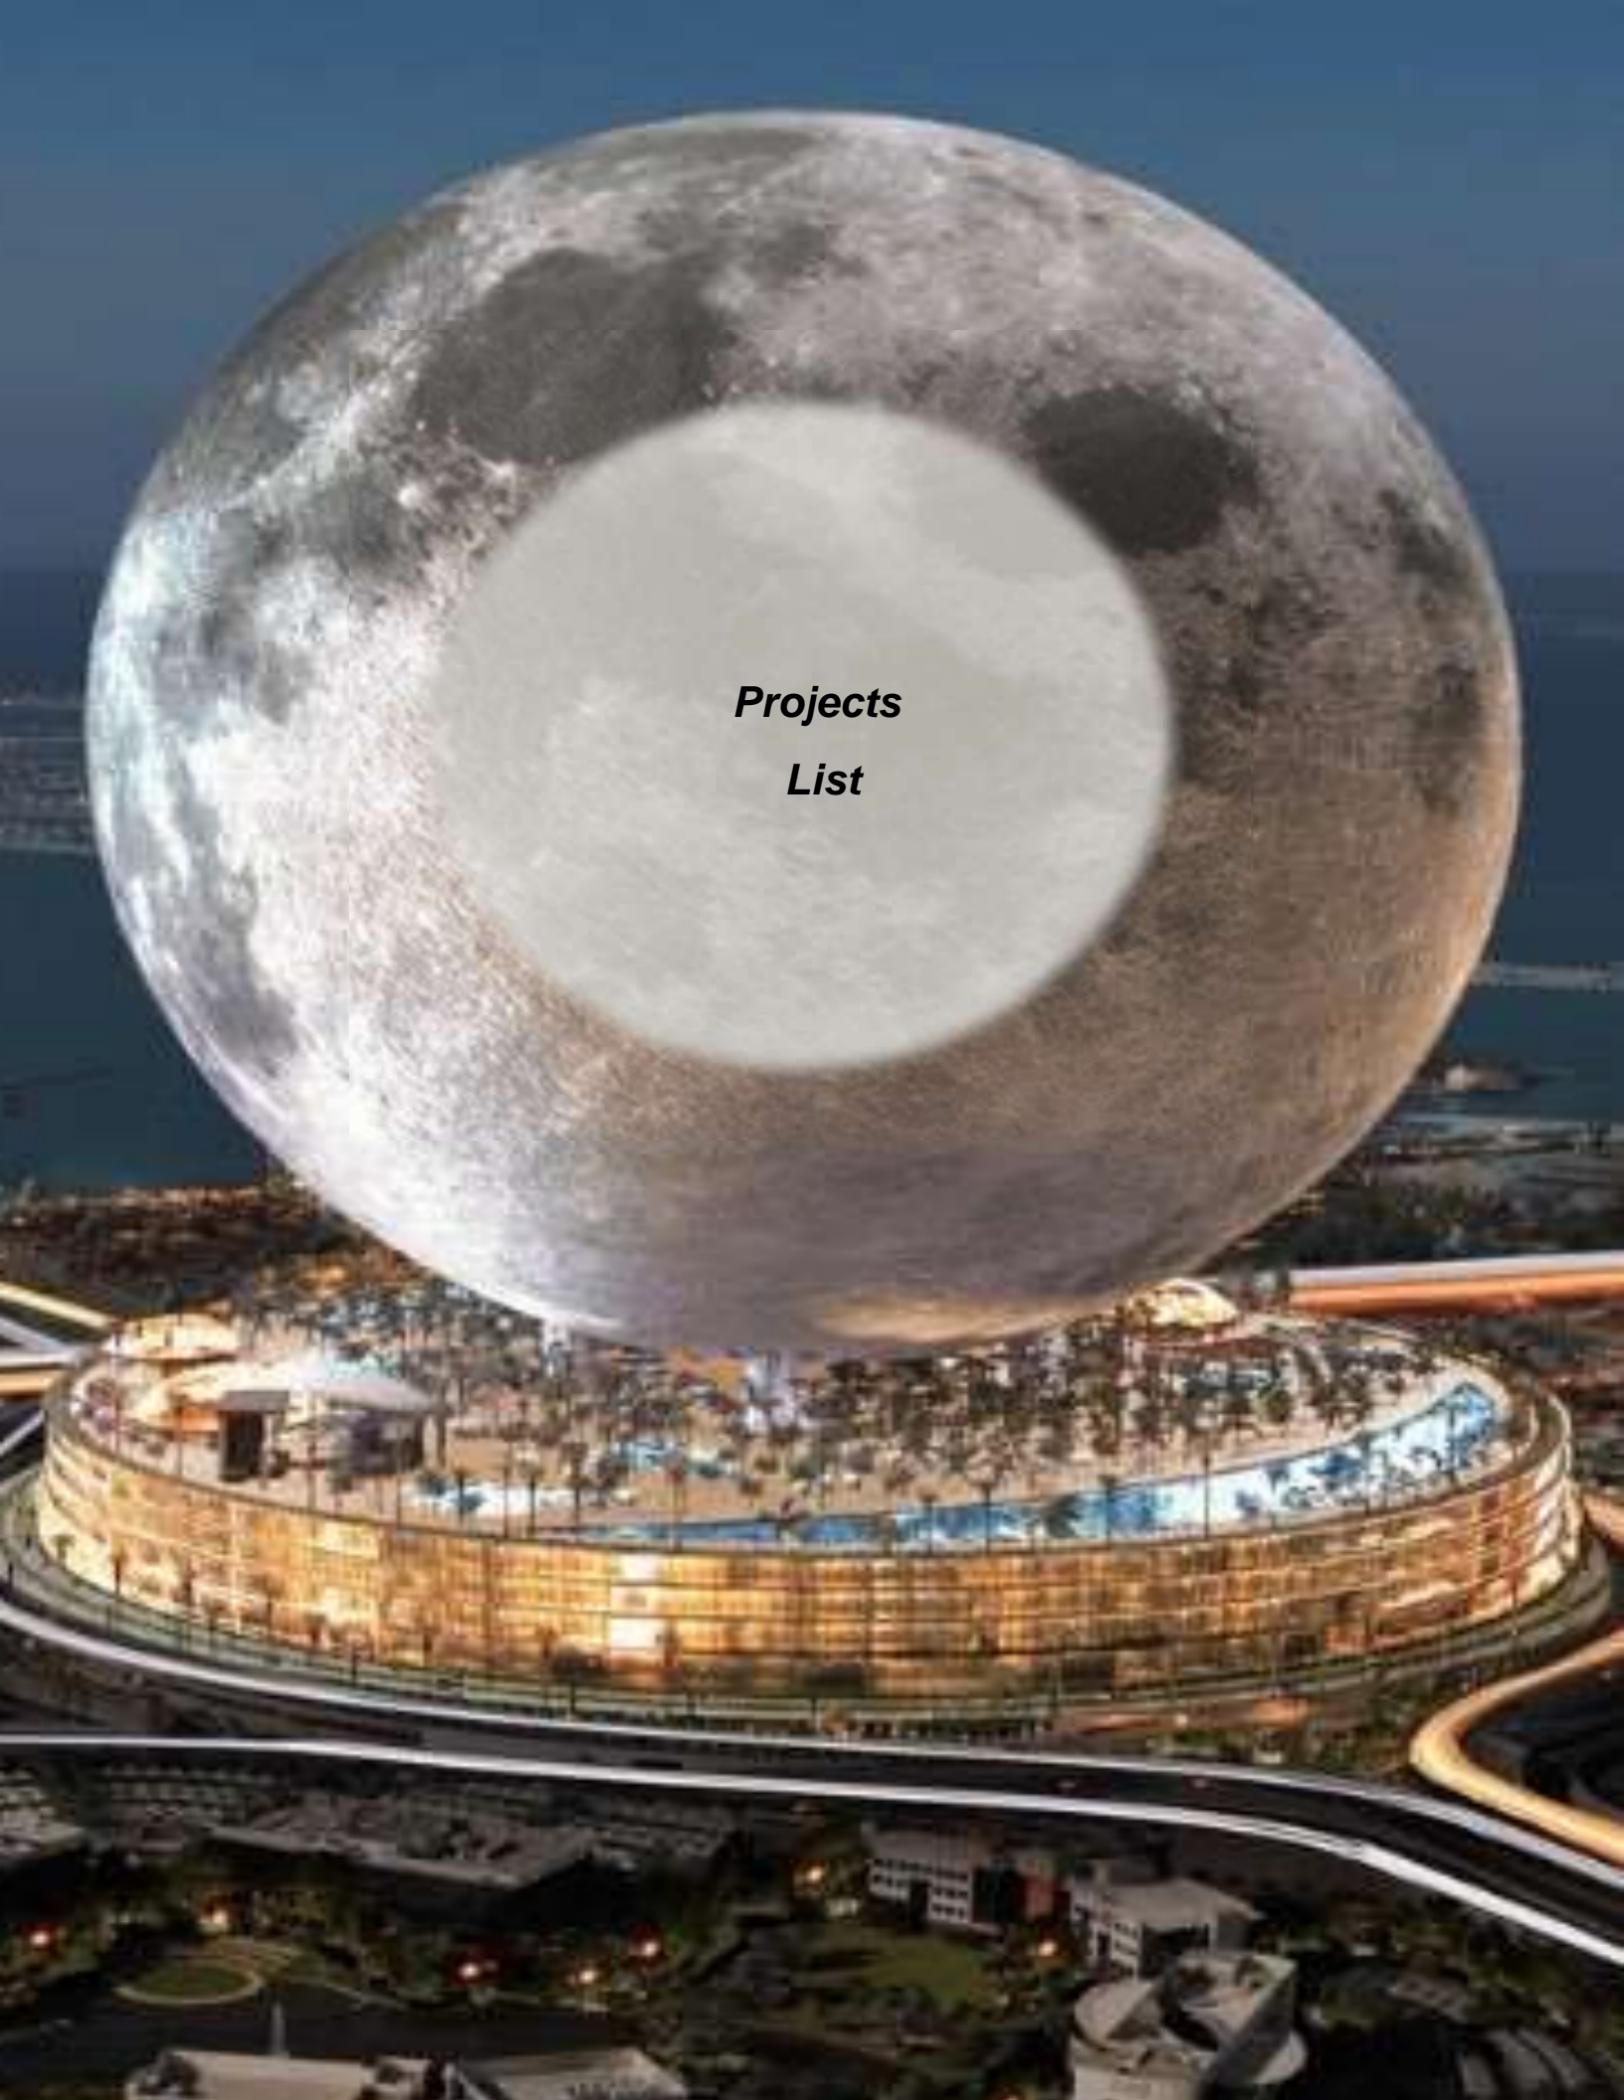

The managing principle of an enterprise is the chief key to the success of a sanitary ware enterprise. Under the unique principle "guiding to markets, satisfying consumers", in such a period of building up brands, we provide customers with creative, first-class and all-round services, and instead of price war, we consider value war as our market strategy.

Ceramics

Enjoyable life means comfort and satisfaction. Either ideal perfection or simplicity is in search for such life. Our options about bathroom life are to enjoy possession, trust and comfort. Homelike feelings assist in high-quality, characteristic designs. Tender touch and great use.

At present markets to sanitary wares, their quality isn't as important as their improving cultural connotation and design emotion, while tradition and reformation are the most important. With years of craftsmanship experience, severe command for quality, and development for new materials, stand as pioneers in the sanitary ware circle.
